

Have you felt like or been told "take a hike" recently? Well this is your opportunity to do just that. Escape the office; come join a group of women on the backpacking trails of New Mexico.

Enjoy the smell of the pines, the streams, the flora and fauna as you backpack, camp, and hike with a small group. Opportunity abounds for learning new skills that can be applied outdoors as well as in the office or home. Basic camping gear will be provided for each participant with expert backpackers leading the group.

New Mexico offers some of the most scenic vistas in the Southwest.
